A draft Bill incorporating the necessary amendments is prepared and sent herewith.

2. Clause 3. Since the intention is to exempt from attachment or sale the share or intersest of a member in the loan-stock issued by a co-operative housing society, it is desirable to make an express provision to that effect in section 26. Clause 3 of the Bill provides accordingly.

3. Clauses 4 and 6. - As suggested in para. 8 of the Tribunal's judgment at pages 97-101 ante the Registrar, his nominee or arbitrator as well as the Trubunal have been given power to make interlocutory orders As regards the suggestion made by the Trubunal to vest the Registrar, his nominee or arbitrator with the inherent powers given to courts by section 151 of the Civil Procedure Code, it does not appear that it is necessary or appropriate to give such powers to them. Clause 6 provides for giving such powers only to the Tribunal.

4. The subject matter of the Bill falls under Entry 32 in List II in the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution of India. As the Bill does not relate to any matter in the concurrent Legislative List it is not necessary to reserve the Bill for the consideration of the President with reference to article 254(2) of the Constitution of India.

5. The Development Department is requested to append a suitable Statement of Objects and Reasons to the Bill.

4. In section 54-A of the said Act,— Amendment of section 54A of Bom. VII of 1925.

(1) in sub-section (1), after the words "the said section" the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"or

(iii) pass such order thereon as it deems just."

(2) after sub-section (4), the following new sub-section shall be added, namely :—

"(5) The applications under sub-sections (1) and (4) shall be made within two months from the date of the award made by the arbitrators."

Amendment of section 55 of Bom. VII of 1925.

5. Section 55 of the said Act shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and after sub-section (1) so renumbered the following new sub-section shall be added, namely :—

"(2) The Registrar or his nominee or the arbitrators, as the case may be, may in order to prevent the ends of justice being defeated make such interlocutory orders pending the decision in a dispute referred to in sub-section (1) as may appear to be just and convenient."

Amendment of section 56 of Bom. VII of 1925.

6. In section 56 of the said Act, for the words "one month" the words "two months" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 59 of Bom. VII of 1925.

7. To clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 59 of the said Act, the following shall be added, namely :—

"Such application shall be made within twelve years from the date fixed in the order and if no such date is fixed, from the date of the order."

Amendment of section 63A of Bom. VII of 1925.

8. In section 63-A of the said Act,—

Insertion of new section 64-IA in Bom. VII of 1925.

9. After section 64 of the said Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely :—

Extension of period of limitation by appellate authority in certain cases.

64-IA. In all cases in which it is provided under this Act that an appeal may be filed against any decision or order within a specified period, the appellate authority may admit an appeal after the expiry of such period, if the appellant satisfies the appellate authority that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within such period."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill seeks to amend sections 15-A, 26, 54-A, 55, 56,59, and 63-A and insert new section 64-IA in the Bombay Co-operative Societies Act, 1925, in the light of certain difficulties experienced recently in the working of the Act. The different clauses of the Bill are explained below :—

Clause 2.—This amendment is necessary in view of the fact that while the despatch of a resolution could be definitely known and proved, such knowledge or proof would be difficult so far as its receipt is concerned.

Clause 3.—This amendment is necessary as it is desirable to exempt from attachment or sale the share or interest of a member in the loan stock issued by a Co-operative Society.

Clause 4.—The first part empowers the Co-operative Tribunal to refer back the award before setting it aside. The second part provides for a period of limitation for submission of applications viz. two months.

Clause 5 and sub-clause (2) of clause 8.—The proposed amendment gives the Registrar, his nominee, or arbitrators or Co-operative Tribunal the power to make interlocutory orders pending a decision on the matters referred to the said authorities in order to prevent the ends of justice being defeated.

Clause 6.—As the period of one month for preferring appeals to the Co-operative Tribunal was considered rather short, it is proposed to extent it to 2 months.

Clause 7.—It is necessary to fix a period within which the applications for recovery of arrears should be made.

Clause 8.—Sub-clause (1) of the proposed amendment provides for cases in which a member of the Co-operative Tribunal may be a party to a case referred to it or may for some reason or other be unable to attend in a particular case.

Clause 9.—The provision in this clause empowers the appellate authority to admit an appeal after the expiry of the ordinary appeal period if it is satisfied that there was sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within such period.

Dated the 20th March 1950. (Signed) VAIKUNTH L. MEHTA.

"(6-A) Where an appeal is made to the Tribunal under section 56, it may in order to prevent the ends of justice being defeated make such interlocutory orders pending the decision of the appeal as may appear to it to be just and convenient or such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent the abuse of the process of the Tribunal."

Insertion of new section 64-IA in Bom. VII of 1925.

9. After section 64 of the said Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely :—

Extension of period of limitation by appellate authority in certain cases.

"64-IA. In all cases in which it is provided under this Act that an appeal may be filed against any decision or order within a specified period, the appellate authority may admit an appeal after the expiry of such period, if the appellant satisfies the appellate authority that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within such period."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill seeks to amend sections 15-A, 26, 54-A, 55, 56, 59 and 63-A and insert new section 64-IA in the Bombay Co-operative Societies Act, 1925, in the light of certain difficulties experienced recently in the working of the Act. The different clauses of the Bill are explained below:—

Clause 2.—This amendment is necessary in view of the fact that while the despatch of a resolution could be definitely known and proved, such knowledge or proof would be difficult so far as its receipt is concerned.

Clause 3.—This amendment is necessary as it is desirable to exempt from attachment or sale the share or interest of a member in the loan stock issued by a Co-operative Society.

Clause 4.—The first part empowers the Co-operative Tribunal to refer back the award before setting it aside. The second part provides for a period of limitation for submission of applications, viz., two months.

Clause 5 and sub-clause (2) of clause 8.—The proposed amendment gives the Registrar, his nominee or arbitrators or Co-operative Tribunal the power to make interlocutory orders pending a decision on the matters referred to the said authorities in order to prevent the ends of justice being defeated.

Clause 6.—As the period of one month for preferring appeals to the Co-operative Tribunal was considered rather short, it is proposed to extend it to 2 months.

Clause 7.—It is necessary to fix a period within which the applications for recovery of arrears should be made.

Clause 8.—Sub-clause (1) of the proposed amendment provides for cases in which a member of the Co-operative Tribunal may be a party to a case referred to it or may for some reason or other be unable to attend in a particular case.

Clause 9.—The provision in this clause empowers the appellate authority to admit an appeal after the expiry of the ordinary appeal period if it is satisfied that there was sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within such period.
